Firefighter Entry Level Examination Study Guide

As a matter of convenience, this study guide is provided at no cost to testing candidates and may be reproduced expressly for the sole use by the City of Mission and potential test takers for this examination.

OVERVIEW

One of the first steps toward becoming a firefighter for the City of Mission is taking and passing a written examination. This examination study guide was written specifically to assist you with test preparation, with understanding the different components of the written examination, as well as providing helpful hints on test taking, and lastly, to provide you with sample exam questions.

The Entrance Exam for firefighter measures the basic skills necessary to perform successfully as a firefighter. The test covers five areas: (1) math skills, (2) reading comprehension skills, (3) spelling and vocabulary skills, (4) and the ability to understand logical sequences.

Upon arrival to take the written test, applicants will need to allot up to three (3) hours of time for the examination. Dress appropriately and comfortably; business attire is not required. You may want to dress in layers in the event the test room is too warm or too cold.

It is important to follow oral and written instructions that are given to you prior to and during the examination. Failure to follow test day instructions can be detrimental to your final score and you could be disqualified for failure to follow instructions. It is, therefore, important to ask the examination administrator for assistance if you do not understand any of the instructions. It is each test taker's responsibility to manage their time.

Scratch paper is not provided; however, you are encouraged to use the examination booklet as your "scratch paper" and write directly in it if it is helpful. Examinees will not be allowed to utilize items of assistance, including, but not limited to, cell phones, PDA's, calculators, documents, dictionaries, or any other aid.

EXAM TIME LIMIT

The examination is designed to provide a maximum of three (3) hours to take the exam. It is in the exam taker's best interest to answer all the questions. If you do not know the answer to a question, you should consider skipping it and return to that question later. As the exam time concludes, be sure you have answered all the questions. If you have some extra time at the end of the exam, you should review your answers and be sure to answer any questions you skipped.

It is an advantage to answer all the exam questions. If you are not sure which answer is correct, eliminate choices you feel certain are wrong. If you can narrow the number of possible correct choices, you increase your chances of answering the question correctly.

HONOR/INTEGRITY

Any individual found to be cheating or communicating with another testing candidate during the examination will have their testing booklet picked up and be immediately excused from the examination room.

GENERAL POLICIES

- The testing room will close promptly at the start of the examination.
- Photo identification is required for testing.
- Snacks or drinks are prohibited in the testing area.
- No late arrivals. The testing room is closed when the examination begins.
- Cell phones and other electronics are not allowed in the examination room. Please secure them prior to entering the test site.
- Test materials are to remain within the examination room.
- Books, notes, and any other test aids not approved by the examination administrator shall be removed from the room.
- Appropriate testing accommodations are available for those with documentation of special needs. If special accommodations are required, contact the City of Mission Human Resources Department as soon as possible.
- Individuals may not be accompanied by anyone while testing.
- Exam takers are responsible for adherence to test instructions.
- Coats, hats, purses, book bags and other personal belongings are discouraged to bring into the testing room.

TIPS ON TESTING ANXIETY

Try to eat healthy meals and snacks. Avoid junk food. A good night's rest the night before is essential and an appropriate meal before the exam will help with hunger pains and noisy stomachs.

Familiarize yourself with the examination site location and where the parking is. Internet maps (Google, Yahoo, MapQuest, etc.) provide a great source to pinpoint the exam site.

Most importantly, do not be late for the examination. Even if you are not a typical "early arrival person," strive to be early (at least one-half hour) the day of the examination. The extra downtime before the exam may help settle testing anxiety.

DAY OF THE EXAM

Arrive at least thirty minutes early on the day of the exam. Applicants who are late will be denied permission to take the exam. It is critical to bring photo identification such as a driver's license or other official picture identification. If you fail to bring official government identification, you will not be permitted to test. Comfortable, casual attire is recommended as the written exam is designed to take up to three (3) hours. You are again reminded that you are not allowed to bring in any paper, books, notes, cell phones, PDA's, other any other items of assistance.

WHAT IS ON THE EXAM

The exam consists of one hundred (100) questions covering the following subject areas:

- Reading Comprehension
- Mathematics
- Logical Sequence
- Spelling
- Vocabulary

HOW THE EXAM IS SCORED

The exam is 100 multiple choice question, with four (A, B, C, or D) possible answer choices. The exam is graded on the number of correct answers. You should not leave any answers blank. Any unanswered question is automatically counted as wrong.

The examination booklet may be used as "scratch paper" and may be used to mark on; however, all answers must be written on the line preceding each question.

As previously stated, if you do not know the answer to a question, you should consider skipping it and return to that question later. As the exam time concludes, be sure you have answered all the questions. It is better to guess at an answer than to leave it blank. If you have some extra time at the end of the exam, you should review your answers and be sure to answer any questions you skipped.

Each correct response will receive one point. The highest possible raw score is 100. Applicants must make a minimum of 70% to successfully pass the examination.

Math Skills

In the math portion of the exam, examinees are provided with situations that require the use of basic arithmetic. Examinees will be required to read a word problem, apply the appropriate arithmetic operations, and then select the correct multiple-choice answer.

Reading Comprehension Skills

In the reading comprehension portion of the exam, examinees will read passages and will then answer questions based on these passages. No prior knowledge of the fire service will be needed to answer the questions. All the information needed to answer the questions will be provided in the passage.

Sample questions

Read the sample passage below and then answer the sample questions. An example of each type of question is provided.

Questions 1-3 are based on the following passage:

In recent years, nearly 80% of civilian fire deaths occurred in residential settings. A quick search and rescue by fire personnel is essential in saving lives. During the primary search, which is rapid and thorough, firefighters should look for victims as close to the source of the fire as possible and work outward. Experience has shown that victims are typically found in the area behind or near the front door. Other high target areas to be searched are the bedrooms and bathrooms. Children most often hide under their beds and in closets, though firefighters should search the latter area only as far as their arms will reach. Fire victims also seek refuge in the bathroom, believing the tub and water will protect them.

1. According to the sample passage, the primary search is which of the following?

- A. Slow and thorough.
- B. Begins in the bedroom or bathroom.
- C. Begins as close to the source of the fire as possible.
- D. Begins at the front door.

2. According to the sample passage, in a home fire, children:

- A. Can be found where the fire started.
- B. Will often hide under their bed.
- C. Usually run out of the front door.
- D. Can always be found in the bathtub.

3. According to the passage, firefighters should search in closets:

- A. Only after the bathrooms have been searched.
- B. Only as far as their arms will reach.
- C. If children live in the residence.
- D. Lastly
